

TEACHER: A. Hallihan

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

In Personal Interest 1, students have the opportunity to pursue an individual interest or passion. You will determine the focus of your learning with help from teachers and other mentors in the school or local/global community. MakerSpace technologies will be a support in fostering this interest or passion. The goal of this course is further developing the global competencies of the student in the areas of collaboration, communication, critical thinking/problem solving, innovation/creativity/entrepreneurship, sustainability/global citizenship, and a focus on self-awareness/self-management. The role of the teacher is to act as a facilitator and supervise students while they work independently or as a team. Students are expected to keep a weekly progress journal documenting their work. Students will also showcase their learning during their midterm and final reports.
